Chapter 14

Arts + Culture Element

Introduction

The arts and cultural activities are valuable tools for accomplishing larger community goals including economic vitality, quality education, and community design. Investment in the arts is an investment in making Gig Harbor a better place to live and work.

This Arts + Culture Element identifies ways in which the City's goals and aspirations can be realized through inclusion of arts and culture among other considerations in comprehensive planning.¹ The vision for the City's arts and cultural future is expressed here, identifying relationships with other City policy, and presenting specific policies and strategies the City may pursue to realize desired outcomes.

This element also recognizes the essential nature of arts and cultural activities as ways to express, honor, and educate residents about the past, from the community's early formation to narratives rooted in native culture and pre-history.

Using this Element

The City of Gig Harbor hopes to realize the expansive potential of local arts and culture, addressing the community's needs for artistic involvement and expression and recognizing how powerful the arts can be in achieving multiple community aspirations. This element serves multiple roles and multiple audiences, seeking to:

- Clarify City policy related to arts and culture;
- Guide decision-making and future investments by other City departments, the Gig Harbor Arts Commission and other local groups and organizations;
- Identify complementary policies and community initiatives including land use, community design, transportation, economic development, parks and recreation, and capital facilities.

This element is organized to provide a brief introduction to arts and cultural advocacy in Gig Harbor and a summary of associated benefits, followed by a three-part listing of related policy. The policy is categorized and expressed from broad-brush and aspirational ("goals"), to more topical and directive ("policies"). Readers may note the flexibility of this approach as providing flexibility for implementation, where aspirational objectives are supplied to guide – rather than attempt to anticipate and direct – ever-evolving behavioral patterns and activity needs. This approach is dynamic, benefitting from regular review and coordination and updating with the rest of the comprehensive plan.

History

Arts and cultural activities have long played an important role in establishing Gig Harbor's visual identity and pride of place. But prior to 2001, there were no city-sponsored cultural art grants or monies for public art. In 1999, the idea for a memorial celebrating Gig Harbor's maritime history spurred formation of a group that championed the installation of such a feature and later became the City's first Gig Harbor Arts Commission (GHAC) in 2001.² Since then, the GHAC has helped lead and support a wide range of arts and cultural activities including art fairs, festivals, concerts, theatrical and dance performances, workshops and lectures – all helping draw tourists to Gig Harbor and boosting local revenues. In addition, the GHAC has led the commission of numerous artworks in the city, including several important installations in City Hall and sculptures at the Bogue Viewing Platform, Maritime Pier and in Ancich Park.

Gig Harbor incorporated arts-related policy in its 2012 comprehensive plan's parks and recreation element. In February 2018, City Council approved a work plan including the goal to create a separate and distinct arts and culture element for the Gig Harbor Comprehensive Plan. By this, the City set a course to more effectively coordinate its resources with arts and cultural activities, boosting the city's unique position in the region and helping realize the many of the community's long-term goals.

The 2018 work plan also led to the creation of a Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC), which reviewed numerous other regional and state arts and culture plans, reports and economic studies. Among benefits seen in their research findings, the CAC noted numerous outcomes applicable to in Gig Harbor and its goals, including:

- Arts, culture and creativity contribute to the physical, mental, social, and economic well-being of communities;
- Arts and culture nurture creative thought and expression and encourage an exchange of ideas among citizens;
- The arts provide tools for accomplishing larger community goals such as economic vitality, quality education and community planning and design;
- The arts help strengthen the cultural fabric of communities and enrich the lives and spirits of residents;
- Arts and culture activities contribute to local prosperity by providing employment, attracting out of town visitors and boosting sales tax revenues;
- Arts and cultural programs can enhance the image of a community, thereby attracting new businesses and workers;

The CAC, with the help of the City's Tourism & Marketing Department, also created a widely-distributed and successful survey regarding arts and culture values in Gig Harbor. Findings from this questionnaire – reflecting responses from 915 community members – show strong support for the idea that arts and culture are essential in creating a healthy, vibrant and prosperous city.

These and other findings show that Gig Harbor residents understand and support the value of arts and culture as a means of strengthening the community and fostering economic growth.

The Gig Harbor Arts Commission

The Gig Harbor Arts Commission (GHAC) plays a vital role in local culture by supporting and promoting the arts and arts organizations. The Commission oversees the acquisition and placement of public art, fosters arts and cultural programs for the enrichment of citizens and visitors, encourages an environment for the success of working artists and strengthens new and existing arts organizations. The Arts Commission supports the following statements:

- The arts provide tools for accomplishing larger community goals such as economic vitality, quality education and community planning and design.
